The blood hounds were put on the trail but lost it after getting out to the road, where it is supposed the robber got away in a vehicle. We have heard of breaking out of jail, but never before breaking into jail.

Olanda School Closes.

Olanda, June 2.—The closing exercises of the Olanda high school were concluded Monday night with speeches, essays, recitations, class prophecies and the awarding of diplomas to the graduating class. Other exercises were held last Friday night and consisted of piano recitals, speeches, and a Tom Thumb Wedding by the younger children. On Sunday a sermon to the entire school was preached by the Rev. B. K. Truluck.

The address Monday night was made by Senator E. D. Smith, and it was an inspiring effort. His remarks were on the subject, "The Kingdom of Childhood and the Kingdom of Youth," and his words well chosen and enjoyed by all. His tribute to the man in the white house was a gem and electrified the audience.

W. T. Wilkins Stricken Down in Store.

The people of Kingstree have never received a more painful shock than that of yesterday afternoon when they learned that Mr. W. T. Wilkins, a beloved fellow citizen, had been stricken down with paralysis.

Mr. Wilkins was apparently in the full enjoyment of his usual good health yesterday morning, and he greeted his friends all day with that same sunny disposition that is the dominant characteristic of his nature. He, with Messrs E. C. Burgess, L. D. Rodgers and R. K. Wallace, Esq., was engaged during the day taking an inventory of the bankrupt stock of H. Riff.

Occasionally, as for the past several days, Mr. Wilkins complained of his right leg hurting, but this trouble was thought to be slight and did not seem to hinder him in getting about.

He, with the other gentlemen named above, left the bankrupt store about 5:30 p. m. and Mr. Wilkins went to his place of business and was engaged with his clerk, Mr. Robert Burgess, when suddenly he asked Mr. Burgess to catch him. The words had scarcely left his lips when he sank on a box by the counter where he was standing. Mr. Burgess and Mr. S. W. McIntosh reached him in time to prevent his falling to the floor. He immediately called for water and took several swallows from the glass. By this time he had lost consciousness and physicians were summoned. Drs. Scott, Kelley and Hemingway promptly responded. They at once discovered that their patient had suffered a stroke of paralysis and had lost the use of his entire right side, his right leg, of which he had complained, becoming cold and rigid.

Mr. Wilkins was taken home soon after six o'clock, there physicians and friends did everything possible to make him comfortable and alleviate suffering. Until about 2 o'clock this morning there was no perceptible change in his condition, but later on he began to rally, pulse and respiration became about normal, he regained consciousness, also a slight use of his right leg and arm. At 6 o'clock this morning Mr. Wilkins' condition had so much improved that his friends were sanguine of his ultimate recovery, at the same time extending deepest sympathy to their stricken friend and his family.

His sons, W. T. Jr., and Joseph, cadets at the Porter Military academy, Charleston, were wired for last night and reached home early this morning. —Kingstree Record.

Commencement Exercises of The Manning Graded School.

The closing exercises of the Manning Graded High School, which is an annual epoch in the social life of Manning, took place in the auditorium of the school building last Friday night, the 4th inst.

The school has just closed one of the most successful years in its history, and under the capable and efficient management of Superintendent D. R. Riser and his competent corps of teachers the school has again made its impress upon the uplift of the community, and the exercises were witnessed by a large audience, as usual, who always come to attest their interest in Manning's high school, one of the greatest assets of any county. Upon the stage were seated the graduating class, members of the board of trustees, ministers, parents of the graduates, the speaker of the evening and others who were to take part in the exercises.

The occasion was opened with prayer by Rev. L. B. McCord, after which Supt. Riser announced the members, first presenting Mr. James Barron, who delivered the salutatory. Then there was a class song by all the graduates, after which Miss Sue Sprout read a paper entitled, "The Class History." The class poem was delivered by Miss Alice Wilson, and the class prophecy by Miss Annie Dickson, and the class will by Miss Sue M. Sprout.

A chorus then followed, after which Mr. Riser presented Mr. S. Oliver O'Bryan who introduced the speaker of the occasion, Hon. Thomas G. McLeod of Bishopville.

Mr. McLeod's address was a very able and attractive one, taking rather new lines in the way of educational addresses, and for about forty minutes he held the undivided attention of his audience with much philosophy and depth of thought. We cannot attempt to ever give a synopsis of his address, but suffice to say it was one of the best we have ever heard Gov. McLeod, and to those who are familiar with his attractive speaking this statement can be fully appreciated.

Miss Netta Levi then delivered the valedictory and there was another chorus, after which came the awarding of diplomas, which was done by Maj. Levi, chairman of the Board of Trustees, in a most appropriate manner. At this stage of the exercises Maj. Levi called Superintendent Riser to the front and gave him a great surprise by presenting to him as a token of high esteem from the graduating class a gift in the shape of a gold pen knife.

The medal for spelling was awarded to Miss Isabelle Plowden by Mr. H. I. Ellerbe. In the contest for the Latin medal there was a tie between Mr. James Barron and Miss Carolyn Plowden, and a medal was given to each, both being appropriately presented by Rev. G. P. Watson. The Reuben B. Loryea medal for the highest general average in the tenth grade was won by Miss Netta Levi, and was awarded by Mr. J. H. Lesesne.

The young graduates received many flowers and congratulations. Superintendent Riser then read the marks of the lower winners for proficiency in the several lines during the past year and the benediction was performed by Rev. Watson, closing a happy culmination of one of the most successful years of the school's history.

The following young ladies and gentlemen have completed the course and received diplomas:

James Barron, Clarendon Coker, Matison Strange, William Wolfe, Misses Theola Brogdon, Elizabeth Coker, Annie Dickson, Atha Galloway, Netta Levi, Jannette Plowden, Sue M. Sprout, Sue Sprout, Addie Weinberg, Rose Weinberg, Alice Wilson, Margaret Wilson.

The following teachers were elected to serve the coming session:

D. R. Riser, Superintendent. Bomar, Assistant Supt.

Miss Odum, 8th Grade. Miss Porter, 7th Grade.

Mrs. J. K. Breedin, 6th Grade. Miss Means, 5th Grade.

Mrs. Riser, 4th Grade. Miss Cooper, 3rd Grade.

Miss Moore, 2nd Grade. Miss Wannamaker, 1st Grade.

Poisonous Snakes Disappearing. The non-poisonous, harmless snakes are rapidly destroying the poisonous serpents throughout the world, say experts on reptile life. In a fight to a finish, it is declared, a whole nest of venomous "rattlers" would have little chance against a single husky black snake.

Summerton.

During the recent several days of fair weather, lots of farm work has been done, and a considerable improvement in crop conditions is much encouraging, and judging from the looks of Mr. J. W. Broadway's corn on Tawcaw, his fodder is about ready to pull.

The closing exercises of Oak Grove school was held last Friday, and about 1 o'clock a picnic dinner was served on the school grounds to appease hunger and thirst, and the good ladies bountifully and tastefully spread before the crowd many good things to eat, and one fellow said he felt like he would never want anything else to eat when dinner was over, while I am not going to tell on him, but every body knows Adolphus do enjoy going to picnics. This school has been under the able management of Miss Mary Ridgill the past session, and she has proved to be a very competent teacher and has been re-elected to teach the coming session, there were two prizes given by this school as follows: One to Miss Lula Mary Hodge, for the highest average, and one to Lonnie Watt, Jr., for attendance and punctuality, the address was delivered by Mr. Eugene Richbourg, although he had not been told that he would be expected to address this school on this occasion, and had made no preparations, yet he made a very instructive talk, and begged the patrons and pupils to co-operate with the teacher and try to make this school one among the very best rural schools in the district.

A reception was given last Friday evening by Mrs. W. H. Anderson, complimentary to Miss Annie Gentry and Mr. Jimmie Grayson, about one hundred guests were present, to wish the guest of honor a long life and great happiness, delightful refreshments were served.

Mrs. J. Sidney Watt, and Mrs. F. H. Billups, were called to Ben nettville last week to the bed side of their youngest sister, who was quite ill, and when last heard from very little change if any had taken place.

Mr. George Dukes died last Wednesday afternoon, and was buried Thursday afternoon at St Paul burying ground, funeral by his pastor, Rev. C. C. Derrick.

Messrs. A. J. Richbourg and H. A. Tisdale, attended the old Soldiers Reunion in Richmond, Va., last week and report a very pleasant trip, and met many of their old comrades.

Mr. J. A. Richbourg of Ashville, N. C., spent several days here last week with relatives and friends.

The first cotton shapes heard of in this vicinity was reported to your correspondent by Mr. C. L. James Saturday. Mr. James is a very successful farmer, and one among the few who pays cash for his supplies the year round, without borrowing money.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Wilson, who has been living in Charleston, is spending some time here, on Mr. Wilson's large plantation.

The Bishopville High School base ball team came down last week and played four games with the High School team here, the games in the wind up was an even break, while Summerton won two out of the first three, and lost the fourth.

Mrs. J. W. Hilton, who has been quite ill for several days is thought to be slowly improving.

Mr. George I. Lesesne spent a few days at Andrews last week and while there, sold 1000 pounds of honey to one man, and several smaller lots.

A man who travels a good deal in speaking about the crop conditions the other day mentioned about one hundred ares of cotton, that would not have enough blooms on it to wear to a campaign meeting if this was election year, and said if Turkey was selling for three cents a pound that the parties who are working this lane would not be able to kiss a humming bird a moon light night, Eh.

Well your correspondent is hanging out at Davis Station, now for some time, removing the cotton ginning machinery for C. M. Davis, and Son, and he expects to install a first class six gin outfit there, then it will not take those good people down there a week to do a days work, while if he continues to meet as jolly good natured fellows as he did last week he will not work like the house was on fire.

Laconic Advice. When Atticus once discovered a treasure of gold while digging under a house he sent news of his discovery to the emperor, Nerva, from whom he received the laconic reply: "Use it." And when in his diffidence he protested that it was too large a sum for his own personal use, the emperor responded: "Then abuse it."

Protect Fruit Trees.

The following method of poisoning was used successfully in an orchard near Fort Collins, Colo., last winter, 50 jackrabbits being killed in one night:

Cut a slit in an apple and insert strychnine alkaloid, powdered, the right amount being what the tip of a knife blade will hold, close the slit and wipe the apple to remove the bitter drug on the outside. Scatter the poisoned bait through the orchard at the base of the trees.

Canada Thistles.

If you have any Canada thistles or quack grass on your farm, start early to prevent them from growing above the ground. Plants cannot gather food without the tops to change the plant food to plant tissue, and by keeping the tops cut off you can gradually starve them out.

A Good Windbreak.

A windbreak in the form of trees, such as cypress, willow or maple, is a very good thing to have around an orchard, especially in the winter, because this will keep the cold winds off and very often protects the buds from freezing in spring.

Keep Things in Order.

Put the home and farm in order and see how it pays. There is a vast difference in the way farms are kept. Do you ever notice this when you drive along the road?

Value of Milk.

One hundred pounds of separator-skimmed milk is worth about as much as a half-bushel of corn for feeding pigs.

Bad Practice.

Breeding from immature stock has a tendency to weaken the race, no matter what it may be.

In the Gym.

"So you have a gymnasium in your new house?" "Yes," replied Dustin Stax. "I spend an hour or two there every day. I have swung up a hammock, and it's a nice place to take a nap in."—Washington Star.
